Paperino is a story of a little blue bird, who after struggling to cope with the demands of its overbearing boss, had found refuge inside the inside-out body of an old computer. The computer had become obsolete and was about to be thrown away by its owner. As if by magic, Paperino found himself within the device and it revealed many mysteries that await him on his future adventures: new friends and enemies, obstacles and adventures! Play as Paperino on this cool 3D adventure game where you'll explore various locations such as planets, deserts, jungles or even outer space! With twenty interactive challenges in each level you can choose your own way of overcoming it. Paperino's friends, the magical creatures of "Nuvola Ritrovata", will help you with their magic abilities to complete the different puzzles. Paperino will have to use its extraordinary jumping ability to reach high places or even use its enemies as a parachute. Help him survive all kinds of enemies, odd characters and difficult situations with his magic power of transformation!

Not being content with only one adventure, the Paperone staff decided to create a new story for their favorite blue hero. The result was not only one game but two! The first was titled "Paperino Si Diverte con il Computer" (lit. "Paperino Plays with the Computer"), and was a survival platformer wherein Paperino would have to have fun with a malfunctioning computer. The second was titled "Paperino Operazione Papero" (lit. "Paperino Operation Papero").

The story begins as the city of Paperino is under attack from a horde of monsters. A mysterious giant machine appears out of nowhere and protects the city from these invaders by firing ray-like projectiles that hurt everything that gets in their way. These creatures are then captured as prisoners, as they are now completely harmless, but as they see it, they are now under the merciless control of the machine, which clearly has no intentions of letting them go free. When the machine is revealed to be a computer controlled by a small magic being, everything returns to normal... At least, it's supposed to be. It seems that there is another wizard who lives inside the computer and this one has other plans for the city. This person wants to wipe out Paperino by destroying his entire identity and make him forget everything about himself. You play as Paperino (a strangely-shaped blue bird) who has to find all the pieces of his identity before it's too late. Along the way you'll meet many different characters, each with their own personality and varying ways to help Paperino on his adventure. To complete each level, Paperino's only method of travel is by using the powers of other characters. To do this he will have to take advantage of their special abilities such as flying or magic power-ups. This way you can find the exit and return to the city.
